K&K's "Light Up The Sky" A Glimmering Success

The Knights and Knaves Dramatic Society presented the Moss Hart comedy " Light Up The Sky" in Austin Hall last Tuesday evening. The performance was repeated on Wednesday night under the auspices of the CYO of St. Monica's Parish.

The play will be presented again this Tuesday evening in Austin Hall.

The play was well received particularly in Barre where advance ticket sales were high. The play sagged badly in spots as the cast did its utmost to make some of the gag lines pull hearty laughs. Conspicuous by their superior performances were Bob Lilly, Mary Polworth and Howard Lancour, all veterans of previous performances and obviously seasoned players.

SECOND SHOW

Light Up The Sky is the second major production offered by the Knights and Knaves this year. The first production, William Shakespeare's " Twelfth Night", was not taken on the annual road trip because of various technical difficulties.

The Rev. Edward Tining directed the play. Male characters are: Tom Geno, Howard Lancour, Bob Lilly, Jim Carroll, Bill Kennedy.

Female roles were filled by Connie Papin, Patricia Stancliffe, Florence Stancliffe, Patricia Joyal and Mary Polworth.

The stage manager is Dennis Scanlon, Paul Heinig is in charge of lighting and technical effects. The stage crew includes Jack Flynn, NickTarrant and Joe Blasie. The settings are made up by Frank Becher, Bernard Blasie and Bernard Couture Properties.

Fr. Keller Speaks To Large Audience

by Jack Stewart

On Monday night, April 24, in Austin Hall Father James Keller spoke to a large audience on the purpose of the Christopher Movement.

Father said that less than 1% of humanity throughout the world is the cause of the world's most recent troubles. It is the aim of the Christophers to combat this 1% with another 1% willing to work under the Name of Christ to make the world a better place in which to live.

We cannot simply sit back and wait for things to change, Fr. Keller said, we ourselves must go out and change them. The trouble with the world today is interest in self-centered, while our interests should be of a wider scope.

The reason why the 1% of humanity is causing so much trouble is because these men are willing to work to uphold their principles. We should likewise go out into the world and strive to uphold our Christian principles, which we know to be true.

Father emphasized that the way to go about changing the world is fourfold: (1) Love, (2) Pray, (3) Go, and (4) Teach. While keeping these four fundamental things in mind the most important fields of work today are: (1) education, (2) labor-management, (3) social work, (4) federal government, and (5) writing, Little is accomplished by criticizing and complaining. " It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness."

Tommy Tucker Plays It Slow

Guiding himself by two simple principles -- that it is always wise to give the public what it wants, and that music should at all times be rhythmic, melodic and good to hear -- Tommy Tucker, who brings his orchestra to Memorial Auditorium on May 12, has reached the top rungs of the popularity ladder.

Scarcely a revolutionary program, yet occupied with Tommy's firm background of musical structure and theory, it has enabled the Tucker band to become one of the prime favorites of the nation's dancers.

No small part of Tucker's success is due to his featured vocalist, Don Brown.

All Class Elections Listed For This Friday

By Gary Albert

The elections for class officers and members of the Student Council for 1950-1951 will be held Friday, May 5, in Austin Hall.

The elections will take place from 9:30 in the morning to 4:00 in the afternoon, during which time each class must assume the responsibility of supervising the balloting.

Each class is asked to submit their nominations for President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, as well as their nominees to the Student Council (as many as they wish) to Father Moriarty by May 3, at the very latest.

Each class moderator may, if he wishes appoint a committee of class members to count the votes, or he may request Father Moriarty to select a committee from the Student Council to do so.

If the former is the case, the moderators are asked to supervise the ballot-counting and see that the returns reach Father Moriarty as soon as possible.

Also, at this week's election, students may vote on the Student Council Constitution. The Constitution, which went into effect last May, has had several amendments.

Jimmy Osborne In Concert Tomorrow

Jimmy Osborn, fourteen-year-old piano artist from England, will give a concert tomorrow night in Austin Hall at 8 p.m.

Jimmy, who was born blind, first attempted to master the piano at the age of three when he sat down at the keyboard and picked out a popular musical piece.

With the coming of World War II, he frequently played before the R.A.F. and was invited to give a concert before the Ninth Air Force newly arrived at Essex. The Yanks received the boy in a big way, and raised enough money to send him to America.

The concert will include solos by John Donoghue, former soloist at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York, and Cathleen Griffin, a former graduate of Trinity.

Admission to be charged will be $1.20 for general public and $1.00 for students.

Shades of Chief Tierney!

"Horribles" Due To March Again

Out of the miasma of some prehistoric age, outshocking the worst forebodings of their forewarned arrival, sending chills from the sacro-iliac to the cerebral cerebellum of every citizen and arousing such peristaltic waves in every stomach that the rumblings echoed to the distant junction of Essex and Twin City of Winooski, came the leader of the Parade of Horribles.

His name was Tierney and he eventually joined the class of '33. Behind, stretched out in a long wedgelike line across the campus, his followers plodded on after Tierney's horse's swishing tail.

Like every other sage conqueror, Tierney caused no drastic changes in the lives of his conquered. He knew that time would assuage the effects of his frightening appearance. True enough, as time passed, he and his followers were accepted by the 'hill' folk. The fears that wrung the hearts of every Michaelman (for in those days women-folk had not succeeded in sailing up the turbulent Winooski) subsided into the peaceful life of college days. But the calm that followed the storm of Tierney's horribles soon turned into a quagmire of uneventfulness. And lo, Chief Tierney passed on .. and so did many of his advisors: the leprechauns, Flanagan and Smith and his favorite jesters, " Paul Revere" Smith and " Organ Grinder" Goulet.

AND THEN IT STARTED

Thus the tradition started. It has suffered periodic lapses but this year with 1140 followers of the Tierney expedition on hand great things are expected. The new Chieftains, Don Walsh and George (name a name) Dolan will lead the parade and following them will come a galaxy of satirical sketches of campus life, public figures and old friends. The Masters of Revels won't indulge any further information about what will appear at the witching hour on May 13th; but rest assured, the entertainment will be hilarious and the spirits of the students will be riding high.

In addition to the Parade of Horribles and the Skits which will be presented at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, there will be an informal dance in the evening at Austin Hall. At the present time a certain local musician is being contacted and for you lovers of jazz and dixie a rare treat is in store. A radio program by the Pen and Mike Club will also be presented at this time and will be aired over a local radio station. For those who plan to remain until Sunday, there will be a baseball game between Arnold College of New Haven and the Purple nine.

More activities are in the offing at the present time and when the final plans are completed a week-end of entertainment is in store for all.

Use That Ballot

Next Friday, May 5th is " get out" day on campus. Everyone should get out and vote at the class elections.

That is the day of the year when everybody counts a little more than usual. Not even being on probation keeps anyone from casting his vote. It's a day of opportunities for all. If you feel some fellow has done good work for the class during the year, here's your chance to help him into a position to do better work. Maybe someone has been plugging along for two years or so, working his head off, never refusing to do the class a turn. May 5th is the only day you can really show your strongest appreciation of what a man does here at St. Mike's. You do it by voting.

Wonder if all this campus elections business makes anyone here laugh, regard it all as a joke? Well, it isn't a joke. Just think about this. Here you are a college student. A lot of people regard you as a gay, carefree sort of guy, with no thought of responsibilities. You're not a very big tax-payer, if one at all. Yet, we are getting the chance to use a right that millions would give their right arm to have. It's a good thing to get into the habit of voting. We might say this is part of our college training. By developing the proper frame of mind toward elections, we go from college knowing our vote really counts for something. We'll have plenty of chances to cast our vote after college. This is a country built on the strength of democratic elections. Voting is the foundation of a safe and successful democracy. So you see it's important we all get to value the idea of voting early in life.

Class election day is building up to be a major part of our growing list of traditions. It gives one a warm feeling to see all the fellows taking such an interest in their college by hurrying over to vote. When the balloting looks real close, everyone concerned seems to take on the air of a holiday mood. A day filled with such interest and excitement seems to fit in perfectly with warm, happy days of spring. Elections and voting are a real part of college life. They go far in helping colleges turn out the kind of graduates they like to see.

It's safe to say that college elections put an obligation upon all the students. The opportunity is there for us all to use to the best advantage. No one can compel you to vote. That's what makes it worth your while to get out and vote.

The Hydrogen Pomb is here to stay - But are we?

We enjoy these newspapers which take firm stands against crime and sin. There's nothing courageous in condemning what everyone is against anyhow.

There will be another special meeting of the "MICHAELMAN" Monday afternoon at 4:30. The meeting will be very short, All staff members should attend.

Question: " What Do You Think of the Students at St. Michael's?"

MARGARET LEDDEN
TREASURER'S OFF.

On the whole, the Michaelmen are a great crowd -- almost as nice as the Alumni (one in particular).

I like to see them show lots of school spirit and to get the most out of college - scholastically, spiritually, socially and athletically, because, in this office, we realize how much the parents have to sacrifice to put the boys through school.

In return, I think that they should try to be a credit to their parents. Someday they'll be sending THEIR sons to college and will expect the same.

MISS DORIS BOUSQUET
SWITCHBOARD OPERATOR

It has been my pleasure, during the year and a half that I have been at St. Michael's, to be associated with the finest group of young men I've ever known.

Of course, there are always those few, who, in any group, always persist in straying off the right road.

Let's hope that these find their correct path during their four years at the School.

MISS AGNES RICKER
SWITCHBOARD OPERATOR

I believe that St. Michael's on the whole is a very nice institution with which to be associated.

The majority of the faculty are really wonderful and a pleasure to work under.

The student body, of course, includes many types, but most of those with whom I have been acquainted show real promise of carrying on the tradition of Michaelmen before them and will surely be a credit to themselves and to their Alma Mater.

NFCCS Congress Best To Date

Still fighting off the effects of an overdose of exhaust fumes and an under supply of sleep, St. Michael's NFCCS delegation returned to the campus on Monday. It had been a hectic weekend complete with burnt out transmitters and council meetings which lasted till 5 a.m.

But despite the rigors of the seven hour bus ride the delegates seemed just about unanimous in calling this the best congress yet.

Throughout the congress a strong St. Michael's spirit had been evident. At the opening meeting, Friday night, President Frank Merrigan had welcomed the delegates with a short humorous speech. Saturday, one of the features of the workshop program had been the labor panel organized by the SMC Labor Club. With four outside speakers, including Labor Secretary Tobin, this panel proved very popular.

The St. Michael's influence continued right through to the business meeting Sunday afternoon when the Michaelmen were instructed to organize a Labor Commission. The commission, which will be directed by Bill Kenney, will work with the 19 other colleges lining up speakers and panels to give the students a better understanding of labor problems.

Aside from the more or less political aspects of the congress the Michaelmen all seemed to consider it a well spent weekend.

Saturday night they heard John Julien Ryan give what was considered the keynote speech of the congress.

Speaking on " Catholic Living", Ryan called to task those Catholics who have what he called thesubpurban complex. Ryan emphasized that Christian Charity is much more important quality.

In general the students who attended were enthusiastic about this year's congress. They praised the workshop program on Saturday which spotlighted many campus problems. They were also high in their praise of the individual speakers both Friday and Saturday night.

Sunday afternoon at 5:30 some of the students who attended the congress will speak in a special radio program over WCAX. The half hour show will feature students who spoke at the labor panel in Boston.

Pre-registration for the coming summer session will take place from May 1st to May 5th inclusive. The advisors, Fr. Dupont, Dr. Durick, and Mr. Garrett will be available between the hours of 9 to 12 in the morning and between 2 and 5 in the afternoon of these days.

The pre-registration forms to be used will be found on the back of the summer session catalogue.

Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. the ladies' auxiliary of St. Michael's, otherwise known as the veterans' wives, will receive a unique honor. At a special graduation ceremony in Austin Hall the ladies will be given suitable recognition for their years of helping hubby with the books. The ceremony will be open to all. It should be worth taking in.

Phil Club In Last Meeting

The Thomists, the Philosophy club at St. Michael's College, will hold its final meeting of the year Monday night, May 1. The meeting will be held in the large auditorium in the Science Hall.

" Can reason prove the existence of God?" will be the topic for discussion. The round table members will be: Jeremiah Regan, Edward Gassner, Daniel Macdonald, and Frank Warzocha.

SMC Collects $60 For Trappists

The Palm Sunday collection of the St. Michael's students netted about sixty dollars for the burned-out Trappists of Rhode Island.

All but one of the Abbey's self-constructed buildings were destroyed at a loss of two million dollars. The night fire spread destruction throughout the chapel and the living quarters. The only survivor of the fifty years' work was the novitiate.

The entire community of the voluntarily speechless monks was saved. The sixty dollar contribution of the St. Mike's students will aid the monks in their rebuilding.

This collection was under the direction of the Mission Crusade and Rev. Maurice Boucher. The idea was conceived by a Michaelman, Ed Daly, who had attendeda retreat conducted at the monks' Abbey of Our Lady of the Valley at Cumberland, R.I.

custom at St. Michael's. In recent years however, it became evident that a change would have to be made so that people could enjoy the festivities of the week-end and at the same time adequate consideration of May 8th could be made.

As the classes grew at St. Michael's so did the number of guests present at the dance. With the music festival in Burlington the week-end of May 8th every year, housing conditions became acute and also the fact that Memorial Auditorium was used for this affair seemed to put a damper on the Michaelmen's plans.

In 1949 it was decided to stage the Junior Prom on the first week-end following May 8th. Now everyone seems happy. May 8th is still honored as Founder's Day, the music festival is held the first week-end of May and the Junior Prom is given headline recognition the following week-end.

KNIGHTS SPLIT IN SEASON'S OPENERS

Home Opener Tues.; Norwich, Opponent

By Bill Koegh

St. Michael's new athletic field and its pitching squad will get real workouts this week with four games scheduled in five days. Next Tuesday the Mikemen meet Joe Garrity's Norwich nine, followed by Champlain on Wednesday. Vermont comes to the Hilltop Thursday, and then the week's finale with the Middlebury Panthers.

The Horsemen from Northfield will field a team of five veterans against the Jacobsmen. Captain Bob Glabricky will be at first base, Dick O'Dowd at second, with an outfield of Al Biggio, Frank Kearney, and Buck Bovee for the veteran quintet. Third sacker Roy Truell, shortstop Ray Conti, and backstop Silvio Lamarre should round out the lineup.

One man to watch for the Cadets will be Buck Bovee, who hit .414 last year. You may also remember him as having a good "Hooper rating" with the basketball team last year. A knee injury suffered in practice is expected to keep him out of the game Friday with Lowell Textile but he'll be rarin ' to go against the Knights.

Champlain College will continue the parade of home games on Wednesday. The New York Staters will resume their athletic competition with SMC. Not much is known of their power, but--look out!

Coach Larry Gardner will lead the now veteran Vermont nine up the hill Thursday to match bats and balls with the Purple. With seven games under their belt in a Southern swing, the Cats should be able to take whatever is coming to them as they have tasted three wins, three losses, and one tie against opponents including Upsala, Army, Hofstra, and Navy.

Sure starters will be the versatile Ralph Kehoe at the initial sack; Ray Vescovi, second base, who was one of the batting leaders in '49; and outfielders Bob Maroney and Johnny Goulet. The latter starred during the spring road trip. Eddie Jasinski may be a possible starter with Don Hebsch in the catcher's box.

After Middlebury's impressive victory over Northeastern, despite the loss to Trinity, the Panthers will give the Knights nine a rough time. Lefty Bud Burkewitz threw a 2-0 shutout at Northeastern, allowing them but one hit.

Their lineup should have Ed Coopinger 1b, Dale Giffin 2b, Wendy Forbes 3b, and Dick Shea at short. Stocky Walt Maurer, Jerry O'Neil, and Myron Hunt will be on the picket line.

ST. MIKE'S HILLTOPICS

by Whit Bartlett

Sports Chatter---The fame of St. Michael's is spreading. Jim "Little Postmaster" Farley recently received a letter from Ex-Postmaster General James J. Farley. The letter congratulated Jim and the St. Michael's basketball team on the fine season they just finished. Farley, now a top executive with The Coca-Cola Company, heard of his namesake and St. Mike's through Father Lyons ----Father Larkin, Intermural Prexy wants it known that the field directly in back of Miketown is not to be used for softball. This section of the campus is to be reserved exclusively for the golfers to practice their drives. Speaking of golf, an all veteran team will be back this year to represent St. Mike's on the links. Mike Ziter, Johnny Corbett, Oke Contois and Gene Nebiolo are all back for another year of competition and they all have their sights set on the New England College Tourney in Boston in May----Frank Simas, the football player and pigskin expert for this paper reports that John Houlihan and Guido Forte are being used to teach "The famous Piscione Method of Conditioning" to the rest of the football players. Seems that Forte and Houly "volunteered" to show the boys the best way to hit the dirt in the famous Piscione method----Ted Ziter had 64 candidates answer his call for Frosh baseball but he has cut that number in half in preparation for Tuesday's opener with the Midd Yearlings----The Intermural Softball League got underway this week with 16 teams. Notable among the early season games was the pitching of Easy Ed Nolan, Frosh basketball star. Eddy came into a game with the score tied and the bases loaded and proceeded to strike out the side on just ten pitches. That's really top drawer pitching----Contrary to reports in last week's MICHAELMAN, there was no baseball game with Boston College this week. The game was pending but the two schools couldn't get together on the date----Notable among next year's basketball rule changes is that basketball players who commit a personal foul will be required to raise their hands. If they don't a technical will be called. This is to stop unnecessary holding up of the game to notify the scorer of the foul----At long last the new field gets its baptism under fire Tuesday when the baseballers cross bats with Norwich. No ceremonies are planned but the field will probably be formally dedicated at the UVM football game next fall.

Knights Drop Opener to Siena At Loudonville

By Dan Tarpy

A big six-run explosion off the bats of the Siena nine in the fifth inning sent the Purple Knights down to a humiliating 11-5 defeat in their initial quest for victory number one.

The game was played under a cloudy sky which, accompanied by a strong east wind, hampered the control of the chuckers all the way.

Ray Doherty, a junior from Newton, Mass., got the starting nod for the Knights, but gave way to pinch-hitter Jack Dudley in the fourth. During his tour on the mound, Ray found things a little rough being touched for four runs on five hits.

WATCH THAT FIFTH!

Red McIntyre came on in the fourth and coasted through that frame with comparative ease. However, the roof really caved in on the redhead in the fifth, and as, related, six markers crossed the plate, dispelling any hopes of a Knight's victory.

Bill "Specs" Tierney erstwhile shortstop and now a converted chucker took over the pitching reins in the sixth and limited the opposition to a single run over the last three cantos. Although hitting a batsman and and lowbridging a couple of other batters, Bill rared back and fanned five when things started to get out of hand.

Eddie Markey, scrappy Knights shortstop, led the hitting parade for the home cause with three bingles in four trips - 1/3 of the team's total.

DIAMOND DUST

About 500 spectators were on hand at game time but when the ninth opened scarcely a handful were around -- just too too cold.

The Knights came up with a couple of double plays something rarely seen last year.

The Knights play host to U.V.M. May 2nd

Palermo Effective As Purple Pound 15 Hits In Win

by Bob Shiner

The Purple Knights combined a load of power and some extra classy pitching last Saturday afternoon as they buried the rival Amherst Lord Jeffs, 13- 2.

While the big bats of the Knights were moulding out a total of 15 hits, Joe Palermo wasn't quite so amiable.

Originally, Doc Jacobs, the Knights' Coach, had intended to throw three pitchers on the hill but after Palermo's first three innings he continued to roll along mowing down opposing batmen with surprising ease so Jacobs gave him the nod to continue.

Palermo went the full nine innings and in addition to his allowing but five safeties, he walked only two batters and sent three back to the bench via the strikeout route.

WATCH THIS SIXTH!

Up to the sixth inning the game had been a tight pitcher's duel between the same Mr. Palermo and George Wilson of Amherst. The only marker up to that point came in the fourth inning as the result of a walk, a single and a double by Johnny Provost, the little second sacker. It remained that way until the sixth inning when the roof fell in on Wilson.

A combination of four walks, three errors of omission and but a single hit produced five runs sewed the game up tight. Still not satisfied with a seven to nothing lead the Knights cashed in on part of their gift of 13 free tickets, by adding two runs in the seventh and 5 more big tallies in the ninth.

LORD JEFF SCORES

The Lord Jeffs' only entrance into the scoring column came in the sixth and eighth innings as they fashioned single markers in each of these stanzas. The only Michaelman to miss the boat in the hit department was Bob Duffy but four others had two bingles and Johnny Donovan, the catcher fashioned three.

for military service with the U.S. Army in March 1943 and was discharged April 2, 1946. He then returned to St. Michael's to complete his course and to receive his baccalaureate in August 1946.

Mr. Ansheles has taught at Seton Hall College, in the Department of Sociology, since 1946, at the same time earning his Master's degree. He will terminate his work at Seton Hall at the end of this year to fill his appointment here at St. Michael's. Mr. Ansheles is married and has two children. He is 27 years old. He was on St. Michael's College tennis team and coached tennis at Seton Hall.

NEW GERMAN TEACHER

Frederick J. Dirmaier, Instructor in German, is a graduate of New Britain High School. He entered St. Michael's in the fall of 1946. At the end of his second year he left St. Michael's for Basel, Switzerland, having registered for the Junior Year Program organized by a group of American professors in collaboration with the University of Basel. Mr. Dirmaier concentrated in German Language and Literature.

He returned last fall and went to Colorado College, which has one of the best majors in German for undergraduate students, and will receive his A.B. in June. Mr. Dirmaier would have been kept on the staff of the Colorado College faculty, had he not accepted the appointment of Instructor in German here. He plans to return to Europe this summer for further studies.

EDUCATION PROFESSOR

Thomas J. Moran, a native of Fitchburg, Massachusetts, will come to St. Michael's College next fall as Assistant Professor of Education. Mr. Moran received his B.S. and Ed. M. from Massachusetts State Teachers College in Fitchburg before enrolling in Harvard in 1948. Awarded the Ed. M. by Harvard in 1949, Mr. Moran has now completed all course requirements for the Ph.D. He has taught in various high schools since 1941

Robert A. Shanley, a native of Long Island, has accepted an appointment as Instructor of Political Science at St. Michael's for next year. He graduated from Columbia College in 1946 with a major in American Government. Mr. Shanely continued his study of Political Science at Columbia University in the Department of Public Law and Government and he received in M.A. in June, 1949.

Perley H. Provost, Jr., a native of Winooski, has been appointed Instructor in Sociology and will begin teaching in September. Mr. Provost received his A.B. from St. Michael's College in January of 1949. He entered Notre Dame immediately and will have completed all course requirements for his Master's Degree in June.

While still a student at St. Michael's, he was elected overseer of the poor in Winooski.

The nine additional appointees to the staff of 1950-51 will be introduced in the next two issues of the MICHAELMAN.
